

Samosas!

Matthew Kalil • Subi Bosa • Jessica Janutsch

Amir loves Grandma
Rabiya's kitchen.

He loves the spices...
the smells...
and the sizzling sounds.

Amir wants to learn to fold Grandma's famous samosas.

Are samoosas square?

No!

laughs Amir.

Are they circles?

No, Granny,
they're triangles!

They sing
Great-Great-Great-Grandma's samoosa song.

Chop the potatoes
chop, chop, chop!

Shake in the spices
shake, shake, shake!

Fold the samosas
fold, fold, fold!

Amir copies Grandma.
Fold the dough once...
Fold the dough twice...

Then fill it and fold it and paste it and done!

But Amir's samoosas look...

...different.

They're not triangles!

I don't know what shape they are.
But they're not the same!

I give up!

Things don't have to be the same, Amir.
It's the difference that makes the difference!

Grandpa Farouk walks in and picks up a special-shaped samoosa ...

Hmmm, now that's a tasty samooooooooosa!

You see!
Your special-shaped samosas are a hit.

High five!

From that day on Amir would chop, chop, chop!

shake, shake, shake!
fold, fold, fold!

Just like Great-Great-Great-Grandma.

His samosas were a little bit different but still famous!

How many shapes did you find?

Samoosas!
